A registration window is displayed when you start the application for the first time.

The screenshot shows the M4 PERSONAL registration window. The title bar reads "M4 PERSONAL". The main heading is "M4PERSONAL". Below it, a message states: "You need to register first to use this software in free mode. Please fill in the form and get your free license." The form is divided into two columns. The left column contains input fields for: First name* (Christopher), Last name* (Mathew), Company (cad schroer), Street, City* (Moers), Country (Germany), E-Mail* (cmathew@cad-schroer.de), E-Mail Confirmation*, Phone, and HostID (1831BF52B925). A note below these fields says "Note: fields marked with an asterisk (*) must be completed". The right column is titled "License Agreement" and contains a scrollable text area with the following text: "Licensing terms for M4 Personal. In order to use the free M4 Personal software, you will need a license and a license file (keyfile). The license file is automatically created when you fill in and send off the request form/web form. After checking the details in the request form/web form, CAD Schroer GmbH, Fritz-Peters-Str. 11, 47447 Moers (hereinafter referred to as 'CSG') shall grant the user a personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable and temporary usage license for the M4 Personal software. Title, ownership rights and intellectual property rights for the software shall not be transferred to the user. Use of the license shall be restricted to the system environment specified in the request form/web form and to the computer workstation designated therein. Once the validity of the temporary usage license expires, the user may request from CSG a new license file. Although in most cases this shall be issued, CSG explicitly reserves the right not to issue a new license file. If no new license file is issued, the user must uninstall the software and destroy all copies thereof. The M4 Personal software may be used for private, non-commercial purposes only. This shall also apply to educational institutions such as schools or universities. Work results (e.g. drawings) are automatically given a watermark when they are printed out. The use of the software for demonstration or training, if this is for commercial purposes, constitutes commercial use and is thus explicitly prohibited." Below the text area, there is a line of text: "By pressing the 'Send license request' button you agree to CAD Schroer's License Agreement, License Agreement - Terms and Conditions and General Terms and Conditions of Sales, Delivery and Payment and Privacy Policy." At the bottom of the window, there is a "Status" field, a "Send license request" button, a "Cancel" button, and a "Choose license file" button. A footnote at the bottom right reads: "Only if you have already received a license file."

After filling in the registration form and sending the data, you automatically receive a license.
